Chance For Argument Over
Results If Races Happen
to be Close.

Voting is Light in City Primary Today.

CANDIDATES' FRIENDS OUT.

Possibility of a contest in the event the vote for some of the positions on the city Democratic ticket are close at the primary today, was discussed by politicians this afternoon, because Rogers' precinct, with 200 Republican votes, did not open at all; Savage's, with nearly the same, did not open until noon and several others were delayed, while substitutes were secured for the officers of the election.

The vote is very light all over the city and some surprises are said to be in store, as the workers got busy this morning. Practically the only people participating in the primary are personal friends, who are out at the solicitation of the candidates themselves. All the members of the machine and the ward workers are depositing their ballots; but there is not a sufficient number of mere citizens voting to offset this vote, which will control the result. Candidates for aldermen, councilmen and school trustees are being nominated.

Only the dry ones realized today that a Democratic primary was held for the purpose of nominating candidates for the vacancies in the city boards. It was one of the quietest primaries in the history of Paducah, and the election officers almost went to sleep for the lack of work. In several of the precincts the election officers failed to show up, and it was necessary to secure substitutes which caused some delay. All of the saloons were closed today, and the dry ones found the heat unusually oppressive. At the court house there are three of the largest precincts in the city with a combined registered Democratic vote of several hundred, and the result there is an indication of the light vote polled all over the city. At noon the North Side Court House precinct and the South Side Court House precinct No. 1, had polled a vote of 13 each. South Side Court House No. 2, had five votes.

At Bernhard's precinct four votes had been polled at noon. The heaviest vote reported was at the south side fire station, where 20 votes were polled.

At Savage's precinct there were 12 votes at noon, 15 at Bernhard's and 21 at Yancy's. At 2 o'clock Berry's reported 49 and Plov Factory 15.

Bachelors' Wed Girl Employees as Fast as Proprietor Hires Them.

William Randolph Hearst Offers Roosevelt Support of "Yellows" If Theodore Will Fall and Worship

New York Paper Springs Political Sensation With First
ing.

New York, Sept. 8.—A sensation was created today by the suggestion of alliance between Roosevelt and his old time enemy, William R. Hearst. In an amazing front page editorial in his New York paper this morning, Hearst promises the support of his independent papers to Roosevelt if the colonel will return to New York and lead the fight against the bosses and for the people. "Drive the Republican bosses out of the party," Hearst says. "We cast one hundred and fifty thousand votes at the last election, Mr. Roosevelt, and we can cast them again with still more."

Since Voting for Measure.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 8.—Mayor John S. Schnepf and each of the aldermen who voted for the ordinance lowering the price of gas in this city to 85 cents on June 6 testified before Master in Chancery John M. Paellier in the hearing of the Springfield Gas Light company against the city of Springfield, that when they voted for the ordinance they did not know what it cost the local company to manufacture and supply gas. "They charge me four and one-half times the price I used to pay before I introduced the ordinance," testified Alderman O'Neill.

NEW ORLEANS CLINCHES FLAG

Pelicans Now Within Reach of Goal and Cannot Be Headed in Southern.

Memphis, Sept. 8.—As result of yesterday's games in the Southern Association New Orleans has clinched the pennant, although the ending will not be recorded until September 17. The crescent city aggregation, which is managed by Charles Frank, obtained an early lead and has rarely been pressed, although three weeks ago it looked like Atlanta had a chance to head the pelicans. The attendance throughout the season has caused complaint from a majority of club owners. The sale of players and those drafted also decreased compared with former years.

the Hamilton club dinner tonight if tice to myself sit at the same table."

and parents and children will be compelled to wait their turn. By

of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks in annual convention today adopted resolutions denouncing their work.

GUN'S DISCHARGE DEPRIVES YOUNG WIFE OF HUSBAND

Will Crow, Popular Traveling Man, Meets Accidental Death.

Shoots Himself While Hunting Near City.

FUNERAL IS HELD TOMORROW.

By the accidental discharge of his shotgun, William Crow, a well known young married man and a traveling salesman residing at 504 Broadway, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock just inside the city limits near the fair grounds. The exact manner of his death will never be known as there was not an eye witness, but it is presumed that he was leaning on his gun, which in some manner was discharged. The full load of shot struck him in the stomach and he was dead when found a few minutes later by his friend, Peter Allen, the well known dairyman.

One sleeve was powder burned,
and his shirt was badly burned, showing that the muzzle of the gun was close to his body. The gun was an automatic shotgun, and easily discharged by a jar. It is the general belief that he was leaning against the gun looking up into a tree when it slipped and was discharged.

Mr. Crow is a traveling salesman for the Rice-Hutchison Shoe company, of Chicago, and he was preparing to leave next week for a trip through the west. Yesterday afternoon he went hunting with Mr. Allen and King Webb in the outskirts of the city. Mr. Webb left the party, but the other two remained in the woods.

There was no eye witness to the tragedy, but the shot was heard by Peter M. Allen, his companion. Mr.
Allen's story of the death is:

"Wednesday morning we arranged to go hunting as Will was anxious to get some squirrels. We decided

CHILD BRIDE DIES OF TYPHOID FEVER

YEARS OLD, HAD BEEN MARRIED 6 MONTHS.

phoid fever, Mrs. Will Arnold died this morning at 3:20 o'clock, at her home, 436 Kincaid avenue, being only 16 years of age. She was married five months ago to Will Arnold, a well known I. C. engineer. Besides her husband she leaves her father, Mr. G. W. Baker, of this city. The funeral services will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the residence. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery, the Rev. J.
R. Riley officiating.

BEATS WIFE; SHE DEFENDS HIM

St. Louis Helpmate Says Husband
Had Right to Whip Her.

St. Louis, Sept. 8.—Although she exhibited a black eye and a bruised face as the result of an encounter with her husband Mrs. Mary Schleiter, a pretty brunette, 22 years old, told Judge Pollard this morning that her spouse, Fred, had a right to whip her if he desired. Then, after Judge Pollard had fined Schleiter $125 on the testimony of a policeman, Mrs. Schleiter declared to newspaper reporters that any man was justified in beating his wife if not pleased with her conduct.

Taft's Appointee as Forester to Succeed Pinchot Praises Latter; Barnett for an American Congress

President of Association and Head of Bureau of American Republics Says All Western Nations Interested

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—"The national forests stand today as the greatest demonstration of practical conservation and as a monument to the real founder of this great national movement, Gifford Pinchot."

Henry S. Graves, appointed by President Taft to succeed Pinchot as Chief Forester, paid this tribute to Pinchot today in his speech before the conservation congress. Graves declared that conservation is threatened by a lack of money and opposition of those who fear their interests may be adversely affected. When President Baker called the delegates to order today, it had been decided to close the congress tonight, cutting it short one day.

A Pan-American Congress.

Declaring that the time was at hand for the calling of a Pan-American conservation conference, John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American Union, spoke today before the national conservation congress.
The call for an international conference on conservation, issued by Roosevelt when president, had not received numerous responses, said Barrett, but there were urgent reasons why the countries of North and South America should deal with the problem as it relates to them, he declared.

"The majority of American countries," he continued, "are in the infancy of the development of their national possibilities. If they commence immediately to pass reasonable and practical legislation for the protection of the forests and rivers, they can assure to themselves an everlasting source of wealth. By taking wise steps now they can avoid the mistakes of the United States."

"As the years go by the call of the United States for foreign raw products will grow apace and will bring prosperity alike to the United States and the country furnishing the material. Inability of foreign countries to meet the demand will bring ruin to the dependent industries of the United States and will deprive the country of origin of a great permanent income from the sale of its raw products. The United States, Canada and the 20 Latin-American republics bought and sold to each other in 1909 imports and exports to the amount of $1,000,- 000,000.

"The time is rapidly approaching when the people of the United States will find themselves dependent upon Latin-America for a large percentage of their food supplies. In another year Argentine beef will come into this country despite the duty.
Vast areas in Venezuela, Colombia and in Central America near the United States are lying fallow and ready for cattle raising as soon as the demand calls for their utilization."

"The United States purchased from the other countries of Pan-America in 1909, rubber, coffee, cacao, bananas, spices, hides and skins, wool, mahogany and other valuable woods, sugar, tobacco and pulp-wood valued at over $500,000,- 000. Again, it can be asked what will be the total in 1929, if conservation protects the prosperity and purchasing capacity of this immense market?"

"Pan-America covers an area of 15,000,000 square miles. It supports a population of 175,000,000.
It conducts an annual foreign commerce of $5,500,000,000. Are not such stakes worthy of Pan-American solidarity of interest and action?"

nephew of Justice Lorton of Tennessee, came here several months ago to accept the position of city engineer.

CROWN PRODUCES DAMAGING PROOF

CRIPPEN'S DEFENSE STRUCK A HEAVY BLOW BY EVIDENCE AND TESTIMONY.

London, Sept. 8.—When the Crippen hearing was resumed here today, Mrs. Harrison, of Brixton, testified that strands of hair found on the body in Crippen's house, also remnants of an undergarment found, and the description of a scar on the body all correspond to the known characteristics of Mrs. Crippen. This and the discovery of poison are regarded as a death blow to Crippen's defense.

COME TO PADUCAH; AGREE TO GO HOME

MAYFIELD GIRLS TELL POLICE-MEN THEY WERE SEEKING EMPLOYMENT HERE.

Found loitering around the Union station early this morning, two young girls who gave their names as Mary Clark and Katie Jones, of Mayfield, were brought to the police station by Jake Rousch, special policeman for the Illinois Central railroad.
The girls said they were waiting for a train to return to their home, but as they remained about the station too long, Patrolman Rousch took them in charge. At the police station they told the story that they had come to Paducah in search of work but had failed to find it and were trying to return to their homes. The girls did not appear bad, and the police officers declined to place them in a cell. They remained in the police office until this morning when they were given a good breakfast. In police court each was fined $50, but the sentence was suspended on condition that they would leave the city. They promised to return to their homes and left the police station immediately.

against 61 last month and 88.6 last year the same date. Oats when harvested showed 83.3 against 81.5 last month and 83.8 a year ago.

SOUTHWEST MINE STRIKE SETTLED WITH COMPROMISE

Terms of Men Are Met and They Agree to Give Notice and Arbitrate.

Thousands Will Return to Work Monday.

COAL FIELDS OPENING AGAIN.

Kansas City, Sept. 8.—Following an agreement on the "board of arbitration and penalization clause" reached early today by miners and operator committees, 30,000 miners of the southwest will resume work next Monday. The arbitration clause, which has barred strike settlement, provides that miners shall remain at work sixty days, after this agreement with employers, on a declaration to strike. Pending a walkout, at the end of sixty days, differences shall be submitted to a permanent arbitrator. Demands for wage increases, better working conditions and mine protection all were conceded. The southwest district includes Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

TWO HELD AS WHITE SLAVERS.

Former State Assemblyman in Pennsylvania Gives Bail.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 8.—Charged with placing a young girl in a disorderly house in Chicago and other places, former State Assemblyman Jesse Bluestone today waived a hearing and was bound over to the criminal court under bond of $1,500. Samuel Mosenon, also prominent in this section, and Sadie Golden are accused in the same connection. Mosenon was held to the criminal court. Mrs.
Golden escaped and it is believed she is now in Russia.

Rachael Weiner, aged 17, a girl of good family here, was the alleged victim, and the information against the men was made by her brother,
Max Weiner, of 327 Dinwiddie street
Pittsburgh. The charges are that Bluestone and Mosenon, assisted by Mrs. Golden, induced the girl by promises of fine clothes and jewelry and of an easy life to enter the house in Chicago.

MORMONS TO ABANDON UTAH.

Will Go to Mexico to Practice Polygamy, Says a Priest.

Galveston, Sept. 8.—Hamilton
Smith, a priest of the Mormon church, who has participated in the close of a sale of 50,000 acres of land to the Mormons in the state of Coahuila, Mexico, is authority for the statement that President Diaz has assured the church that polygamy and all other practices of the church will be permitted without interference in Mexico. Dr. Smith also states that his people will abandon Utah in the not far distant future and settle in Mexico, where they will not be prosecuted for their religion and its practices. The Mormons already own 65,000 acres of land and have a well established colony in Mexico adjoining the 50,000 acres just acquired.

journed session, adjourned a second time until September 20, when its Malaria "Knocked Out" In Lumber Camps.

(Lumber Trades Review.)
It's a safe bet that Col. "Dick" Ader seized the opportunity to tell every delegate to the convention how he "knocked out" malaria away down the Southeastern corner of Alabama this summer. "There's no use talking," said the Colonel, "the old-fashioned 'shakes' did get the boys along the Chattahoochee river this year. I reckon we had every known form, from swamp fever to dumb ague, and all the quinine we could take didn't help much."
"Then we got a new engineer from Louisiana. He worked one day and sized up the boys. The next day he got leave of absence and went nine miles to the nearest drug store and came back with three dozen packages of 'Capt. Wells' Malaria Remedy.' In four days he had every man on the place at work and feeling fine. It certainly is great medicine to stop a chill and knock out a fever."

"Dixon, the engineer, told me that the medicine was the secret formula of Capt. Wells, an old-time Mississippi river captain of the '50s. The formula has been in the Wells family for 120 years and has never failed to give relief or cure malaria. The old captain's son now makes it for the drug trade, and you can buy it in almost any drug store. Just ask for 'Capt. Wells' Malaria Remedy.' It has no other name."

Democratic Victory.

New Orleans, Sept. 8.—Reports practically remove all doubt concerning the return to congress of Representatives John T. Watkins, of the Fourth district; Joseph E. Ransdell, of the Fifth, and A. P. Pujol, of the Seventh. These were the only representatives from Louisiana who had opposition in the year's Democratic primary.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

I will begin my assessment September 1 and every taxpayer in the city should not fail to call at my office and give in their property, which enables the assessor to get a true and correct list. The law provides that on failure to do so that a penalty shall be added to the assessed value of said property and the assessment as made this year on all real estate will stand without change for the next four years. Therefore it behooves all taxpayers to be on time in coming to my office and get a correct assessment of his or her property.

Harrisburg, Ill., Sept. 8.—Paducah took another drop in the percentage column and fell into fourth position as a result of yesterday's defeat by Harrisburg. The score was 7 to 1, and the locals were never in danger of losing the game. Gwin was in the box for the visitors and was battered for eleven safe drives while three errors were rolled up behind him. Wagner was on the slab for Harrisburg and only three hits were secured. Paducah narrowly escaped a shutout.

Whitewashed the Macs.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 8.—Hopkinsville took the second game of the series yesterday afternoon by a score of 2 to 0. The victory was due to the wonderful pitching of Crain, the former Paducah twirler. He had the league leaders at his mercy all the game and allowed only five hits. Higginbotham worked for the leaders, and was touched up for five hits. The scores against him were secured in the first part of the game. After two were down Taylor singled to right field. Vinson followed with a single to center. Overton drove out a single to right. Kraft threw to Golden at third when Taylor started home, but the ball took a bad bound and both Taylor and Vinson scored the only runs of the game. Brown was next up and was an easy out. Crain's control of the ball was wonderful.

Batteries—Hopkinsville, Crain and Taylor; McLeansboro, Higginbotham and Berry.

Gosnell Saved the Day.

Clarksville, Tenn., Sept. 8.—Clarksville knocked Lyman Johnson off the slab in the early innings of yesterday's game and bid fair to win. Mother Nairn uncovered his southpaw, Gosnell, and trotted him into the box. The scoremaking by Clarksville ended while the Alices began to lambast Priest and won the game by a score of 6 to 2.

The offerings follow: Burley, 16; dark, 44; original inspection, 44; reviews, 16; total, 60. First sale Thursday at the Central house.

The Farmers' warehouse sold 8 hogheads of burley at $14.00 to $21.50 and 6 hogheads of dark at $6.50 to $9.40.

The State warehouse sold 8 hogheads of burley at $8.50 to $19.75. The Ninth-street warehouse sold 38 hogheads of dark at $7.30 to $12.50.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 8.—Tobacco offerings, 52. Quality good. Market firm. Demand active. High price, $20 per 100 pounds.

LIVESTOCK.

Louisville, Sept. 8.—The receipts of hogs were 504 head, making a total of only 1,590 head for the three days this week, which is far below normal. Not near enough good hogs coming to meet the requirements of the local packers, and the market maintains a splendid position as compared with other markets. The trade opened early and steady prices were in style, all the good hogs, all weights, selling at $9.85, with the rough hogs out at $8.85 down. Pens cleared early in the action and market closed steady to strong.

Sheep and Lambs.
The receipts of sheep and lambs were small, only 549 head, or 3,769 for the three days this week. The market was generally quiet, but a good demand prevailed for prime lambs and good fat sheep. Prices were generally about steady. The bulk of the best lambs, 5 1/2 @ 6 1/4; seconds, 4 1/2 @ 5; culls, 3 @ 4c; fat sheep, 3 1/2 @ 4c down. Common sheep very dull and draggy. Fair inquiry for prime to fancy stock ewes.

Cattle.
The receipts of cattle yesterday were scant, only 31 head; for the three days, only 2,416 head. The buying crowd was small and limited to local traders and butchers, the demand narrow and but little doing again in any of the departments. Prime to fancy butcher cattle were in fair demand and fully steady. Medium and inferior kinds, particularly grassy, half-fat cattle, were dull and draggy. Green steers, 900 to 1,100 pounds, were hard to sell. Good bulls steady. Common bulls and canners dull. Milch cows slow. No prime, heavy cattle here. Feeding easy.

Calves.
Receipts, 94; for the three days, 486. The market ruled quiet, about steady. The bulk of the best veals, 7 1/2 @ 8 1/2c. Some few fancy a shade higher. Medium, 6 @ 7 1/4c; common, 2 1/2 @ 6c. Heavy calves very hard to sell.

St. Louis, Sept. 8.—Cattle—Receipts, 8,000; market steady; native beef steers $7.00 @ 8.10; calves in carload lots $5.50 @ 9.00. Hogs—Receipts 6,000; market steady; pigs and lights $8.70 @ 10.10; packers $9.00 @ 10.05; butchers and best heavy $9.65 @ 10.00. Sheep—Receipts 3,000; market steady; native muttons $4.10 @ 4.50; lambs $4.50 @ 7.00.

FAMOUS ARTIST DEAD.

William Holman Hunt Dies In Native City, London.

London, Sept. 8.—William Holman Hunt, the artist, died this morning. William Holman Hunt was 83 years old and the only survivor of the distinguished group of three painters who became notable as the founders of the so-called pre-Raphaelite movement, and had not been in good health for many months. A year ago he was seriously ill but recovered.

He was born in London in 1827 and exhibited his first picture in 1846. He was one of the first members of the Order of Merit. His reputation as a painter was very high in circles in England. Among his best known works are "The Light of the World," "The Savior in the Temple," "The Shadow of Death" and "The Triumph of the Innocents."

THE FISHERIES AWARD.

Peace has gained another victory.

The United States and England, two neighbors, quarreled over the terms of a contract by which the United States fishermen were accorded the right to fish in certain

Canadian waters and out of the quarrel a lawsuit arose. Suit was filed in the Great Hague International tribunal, and decision was rendered yesterday on the seven points submitted. The finding in general holds both parties to a strict interpretation of the terms of the treaty contract, sustains the absolute sovereignty of Great Britain over the waters in contention and restrains

Great Britain from exercising this authority in violation of American treaty rights.

serve that nations as well as individuals get into trouble through ambiguities in the terms of their contracts. Unquestionably in this instance, England has been doing every thing possible to discourage American fishermen in Canadian waters, imposing special taxes and regulations, limiting the time and methods of fishing so as to work a hardship on American fisheries and prohibiting the employment of any but Americans on American boats in order that native Newfoundlanders might be prevented from aiding the Americans with their peculiar knowledge of the coasts and conditions.

Of course, it is England's land and water and no objection could be made as long as she kept within her rights reserved from the treaty; but if Japan had treated our fishermen in any such fashion the Jingoos would now be dining war in the ears of the country. We are glad a more neighborly feeling exists. At one time the Newfoundland fisheries promised to become casus belli and the acceptance of the award by the two countries will go a long way toward establishing the prestige of the Hague tribunal.

Perhaps, the most important principle established is that England must not discriminate against American fishermen in treaty ports. The next best point gained by the United States is that the regulations imposed on the fisheries of the coast must be reasonable, and that the reasonableness must be determined by an impartial commission; not left to English officials.

England, however, retains the right to regulate the fisheries, fixing the time and manner of operating, without the interference of the United States, but with strict regard to the treaty rights of the latter nation. This finding is based upon the absolute sovereignty of Great Britain in the premises. Great Britain also is sustained in her contention that the fishermen of the United States renounced the right to use all non-treaty harbors, keeping three marine leagues beyond the headlands. This is a serious blow, as the United States contended that this applied only to small bays and inlets, and that the measurement must be taken from the general contour of the coast. However, clinging to the strict letter of the treaty, the court favored England, though the only dissenting opinion, that of the member from Argentine Republic, was recorded on this point.

Under the award United States fishermen must keep three marine leagues outside the big bays and Labrador, which excludes them from sharing in the mackerel hauls in the Bay of Fundy. On question one, involving the inherent right of sovereignty in Great Britain to regulate fishing privileges, this reasonableness of the regulations must be determined by a disinterested commission, composed of three men, one appointed by each power and the other to be Dr. Hoek, scientific adviser of the fisheries of the Netherlands.

The treaty coasts are the southern and western coasts of Newfoundland from Rameau Island around by way of Cape Ray to Quirpon Island, the whole of Magdalen Island and the Labrador coast from Mount Jollo northward indefinitely. The treaty of 1818, around which the whole long-fought controversy revolves, declared the United States the right to "take, dry and cure" fish on the sea coasts and to "dry and cure" only on any of the unsettled bays, harbors and creeks, on the rest of the southern Newfoundland and Labrador coasts.

The Memphis date line was superfluous in the Chicago Tribune's special correspondence relative to the political situation in Tennessee. The correspondent could never have obtained that view from any point other than Memphis.

BAD POLITICS.

"Trust 'Our Ollie' to keep up the scrap for Democracy all the time," remarks a local contemporary, regarding the action of the minority of the Ballinger committee at Minneapolis yesterday.

We do not know whether Ollie James was responsible for the action of the minority in taking advantage of the absence of a majority of the committee to return a finding in the case; but it was about the poorest piece of politics we have seen for a long time.

Although there was no evidence adduced to show that Richard A. Ballinger, as secretary of the interior, has violated his obligation of office, there was plenty of proof that prior to his acceptance of the office he had represented before the interior department interests, which are under suspicion, and that he is not at all in sympathy with the plan to conserve the national resources in the west. For this reason the sentiment of the country has been against Ballinger, and in anticipation of the finding of the congressional investigating committee, charges have been made that Ballinger would be white-washed by the majority. This sentiment, however just the report might be, militated in favor of the minority report, and so long as the four members maintained a semblance of sincerity, they possessed a moral advantage, which extended to their party. So, it was to the interest of these four members of the committee to look to appearances and depend upon popular feeling to endorse their views.

There are twelve members of the committee, invested with the powers of a court to subpoena witnesses, compel them to testify and to punish them for contempt. Any member or group of members possessed the right to dissent from the finding, and it was known that the four Democrats would return a minority report, severely denouncing Ballinger, and that Representative Madison, Republican, would make a report of his own.

At Minneapolis yesterday four members of the majority were absent; two, learning of the intention of the minority to take advantage of their absence and overwhelm the majority, left; and Senator Nelson, chairman of the committee, declared there was no quorum present to transact further business. In this he is sustained by the opinion of Representative Madison, one of the five.

However, in spite of this questionable situation and disregarding the obvious fact that, if the majority had been present, a report exonerating Ballinger would have been made, and will be made, no doubt, and accepted by congress; the minority, not only insisted on its program, but the four rescinded their own deliberately prepared opinion and adopted that of Representative Madison.

The committee is not a parliamentary body, as we mean it when we refer to congress or a legislature; but a court finding a judgment upon proof submitted according to the rules of evidence. Supposing this, instead of a special committee of twelve men, had been the supreme court of the United States, consisting of nine men, four of whom held an opinion contrary to that of the majority, and these four, taking advantage of the absence of the other five, should prepare and publish an opinion with all the solemnity of a judicial decree, would not such conduct be reprehensible? And, supposing further, that three of the four held one view and the other a different view, and the three, more anxious to forestall the majority than to perpetuate a chosen principle, should agree to the opinion of the fourth, would they not be guilty of insincerity?

That is where the minority on the Ballinger committee lost its moral advantage. No matter now, if the majority is accused of whitewashing the defendant, the minority has proven itself insincere and shown an inclination to play politics about a grave matter, in which the people of the country were desirous of learning the truth.

In that section of the country, where Democrats will have to make gains if they expect to carry a national election, Republicans who disliked Ballinger will be driven back into the ranks by the unfair, insincere and partisan attitude of the minority of the committee, which will be made much of, naturally, by Republican campaign orators. These Democratic congressmen come from overwhelmingly Democratic districts, in which, as long as they retain control of the district committee, they are sure of nomination and election. They are not personally interested in the success of the national ticket, and the broad-minded statesmanlike position on public questions, which would give prestige to their party over the country, is discarded for the small partisan attitude, which tickles the "boys in the trenches" back home.

Mr. J. H. Owen, of Gilbertsville, complained that the Evening Sun in a news story connected the name of his wife with an arrest for bootlegging. The error was regrettable and the correction is made.

A communication in the Courier-Journal concerning "Old Fashioned Democracy" and Joe Cannon's oration on "Old Fashioned Republicanism" remind us of "Old Fashioned Religion," which once stirred the religious emotions of the fathers, but has now taken a permanent position in the repertoire of the dance orchestra as a popular two-step. Of course some people will regard all these changes as progressive, and others will deplore them as evidences that the country is going to the devil. A man may take his choice.

NO HOPE FOR JUSTICE HARLAN

Age Held Barrier to His Selection as Chief of Supreme Bench.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Little stock is taken here in the revived stories of the possible appointment of Associate Justice John M. Harlan as chief justice to succeed the late Melville W. Fuller. At the time of Chief Justice Fuller's death it was stated that friends of Justice Harlan undoubtedly would start a movement looking to his appointment, but at that time it also was stated that his advanced age would be a barrier.

It is understood President Taft desires for chief justice a young man with many years ahead of him. According to latest rumors, Justice Harlan would be willing to retire after serving a short time as chief justice. One weak spot in this reported arrangement is the repugnance with which anything looking like a "deal" in matters relating to the supreme court is viewed in the highest official and judicial circles.

Those who have been in closest touch with President Taft during the summer have been of the opinion that his selection for chief justice is most likely to be Associate Justice Hughes. If not Justice Hughes, it is believed, then it will be a man not now on the bench who possesses the qualifications desired by the president.

BEWARE "RED FEATHER."

Female Highwayman Terrorizes Many Louisianians.

Covington, La., Sept. 8.—All houses in the northwestern part of this parish have their doors locked and windows barred at the approach of nightfall, as the inhabitants are all terror-stricken over the exploits of a woman highway robber. It is alleged that a burly woman said to be Mrs. Wren, has held up at the point of a revolver and robbed several men in the vicinity of Onvil and Red Bluffs during the past two weeks.

A man named Gore reports that last week the highway-woman came to his house and on being denied admission, threw herself against the door, forced an entrance and made herself at home for a short time until it pleased her to depart.

Her victims so far have lost small amounts, but only because of their scant supply of funds at the time of the holdup, as it is said the woman's methods are very thorough and business-like.

ONLY A DIME

HIGHWAYMEN SECURE LITTLE FOR THEIR PAINS.

Two Men "Stick-up" Leslie Shelton, Steamboat Roustabout.

Two highwaymen that seem to have opened up for business in the city secured only a dime for their reward when they held up Leslie Shelton at First and Jefferson streets last night. Shelton is a steamboat roustabout and was turning the corner when two men, one of whom he says was tall and the other short, tripped him and poked a pistol in his face. While he was on the ground afraid to make an outcry, they went through his pockets. When they found only a dime they commanded Shelton to run as fast as his legs would carry him. This he continued to do until he ran into the arms of Patrolmen Ogilvie and Shelton. Breathlessly, he explained the hold-up, and they made a search of the vicinity immediately, but failed to find the men.

WILL STOP BACKACHE

A man who can do this seldom complains of backache. His kidneys are in pretty good condition. Those who can not carry the children "pick-a-back," or when even less strenuous exercise causes sharp pains over the kidneys, should try a few doses of the new Barkola Globes treatment. It is said to be remarkably effective and a splendid tonic for out of order kidneys and bladder. Druggists say it is fine for too frequent urination, dizzy spells, nervousness and rheumatism. It is giving such universal satisfaction that it is sold under a positive guarantee by Gilbert's Drug Store.

for a year or more, telling you that you ought to know all about the company that carries your fire insurance, but have you done anything about it? Many have, but the majority of policy-holders have done nothing about the selection of a company. They are still "fiddling."

In the history of fire insurance in America, a large majority of the fire insurance companies organized have failed or retired from business. To be insured in companies like Weil's, that have been in business a hundred years and will be in business a hundred years from now, costs no more than to be insured in one that may go out of business next week.

Upheaval in Western Union.

New York, Sept. 8.—Rumors are current regarding an extensive upheaval in the Western Union Telegraph company, which would place Theodore N. Vall, president of the American Telegraph and Telephone company, at the head of the telegraph company to succeed President Robert C. Clowry.

It was learned that whether President Clowry retires or not, there is to be a thorough shake-up in the telegraph company in all departments and divisions throughout the country. The reorganization plan is said to be so far-reaching that even the operators will feel its effects.

In the operating department there has been a feeling of uncertainty among the employees. There is said, however, to be a general feeling of loyalty and respect for the new regime on account of improved conditions introduced during recent months.

Manufacturers May Revive Litigation Which They Previously Withdrew.

HE SAYS IT IS OVERWORKED

Chicago, Sept. 8.—The following telegraphic correspondence regarding the request that President Taft direct the interstate commerce commission to personally conduct the hearing on proposed freight rate advances was made public today:

"Executive Office, Beverly, Mass., Sept. 3.

"Laverne W. Noyes, President Illinois Manufacturers' Association: 'Telegram received. I have implicit confidence in the work being done by the interstate commerce commission under the able leadership of Judge Knapp. The commission is heavily overloaded with work. Some of the members are necessarily in Europe. A full record will be kept of the hearing at Chicago. I am not disposed to take any action changing the arrangement made by the interstate commerce commission.'

"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

May Revive Litigation.
The Illinois Manufacturers' association replied to this telegram as follows:

"Hon. Wm. H. Taft: 'Telegram received. We do not raise any question as to the ability or able leadership of Judge Knapp. We respectfully insist that the commission conduct the investigation both as to eastern and western territory as was agreed when you ordered the injunction proceedings in the federal court dismissed. We believe that the shippers and consumers of the country will be entirely satisfied with the reinstatement of the injunction case and a trial on the issues therein raised if you cannot see your way clear to direct the commission to sit personally.'

De Forest, Wis.—"After an operation four years ago I had pains downward in both sides, backache, and a weakness. The doctor wanted me to have another operation. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am entirely cured of my troubles."

Another Operation Avoided.
New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed and the doctor said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."—Mrs. LILY PEYRON, 1111 Kerlerec St., New Orleans, La.

active James. When their vote was being taken Senator George Sutherland, of Utah, Republican, and Representative Samuel W. McCall, of Massachusetts, Republican, left the committee room, insisting the full committee should be present.

No Quorum Present.

The Democratic members replied they had been months considering the question, that a quorum was present and that they had a right to transact business. Senator Nelson, chairman of the committee, took the vote, voting present himself and then made the ruling that no quorum was present.

Mr. James made the point of order that no member raised the point of no quorum before the vote had been called.

The committee then took a recess until Friday at 10 o'clock at which time reports in keeping with the resolution of Senator Fletcher and the amendment thereto offered by Representative Madison will be submitted.

When the committee met the following members were present: Senator Nelson, chairman, Republican; Senator Sutherland, Republican; Representative McCall, Republican, and the following Democrats: Senator Fletcher and Senator Purcell and Representative Ollie M. James, of Kentucky; James M. Graham, of Illinois.

Representative Madison, of Kansas, Republican, was also present.

Would Oust Him.

Chairman Nelson, in opening the session, stated he had received telegraphic advice that Representative Denby, of Michigan, Republican, who had been detained in Michigan on account of primary elections, would reach Minneapolis this morning, also that Representative Olmstead, of Pennsylvania, Republican, would be here Friday. It was suggested in view of the fact that these two members were on their way it was only fair to them that a recess should be taken until Friday morning in order to permit them to participate in the deliberations of the committee.

Senator Fletcher, however, offered the following resolution:

"Resolved, That from the weight of evidence submitted to the committee, we find as follows:

"First—That Mr. Richard A. Ballinger, as secretary of the interior, has been unfaithful and inefficient in the discharge of his official duties.

"Second—That he is unfit for the very responsible position he holds.

"Third—That the vast amount of public property under his control, and the larger public interests, are not safe in his hands.

"Resolved, further, That the public good demands his removal from said office.

"Be it further resolved, that the report to the congress be prepared, setting forth the grounds and reasons as shown by the evidence for this finding and recommendation, including other matters referred to this committee, and that the same be submitted to this committee on Friday next at 10 o'clock a. m."

Sustain Glavis' Charges.

Mr. Madison offered the following substitute:

"Resolved, That the findings of the committee be as follows, and a report, based thereon, be prepared and reported to congress:

"First—That the charges made by T. R. Glavis against Secretary Ballinger should be sustained; that in the matter of the disposition of the Cunningham coal lands, Mr. Ballinger was not a faithful trustee of the interests of the people, and did not perform his duties in such a manner as to properly protect such interests.

by Mr. Pinchot should be sustained; that Mr. Ballinger's course in the administration of the department by a lack of fidelity to the public interests; that this has been shown in his treatment of the Cunningham coal claims, the restoration of the water power sites to entry without intention to rewithdraw and in his administration of the reclamation service, the latter resulting in unnecessary humiliation to the director and tending toward the disintegration of the service. He has not shown himself to be that character of friend to the policy of conservation of our natural resources that the man should be who occupies the important position of secretary of the interior in our government, and that he should no longer be retained in that office."

Madison Resolution.

This motion and substitute were laid aside and the following resolutions offered by Mr. Madison:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of the house that the report or reports which may be formulated at this sitting of the committee shall on the adjournment of the committee, be made public."

Mr. James offered the following amendment:

"That it is the sense of those present that a report or reports should be made at this session of the committee on the questions submitted by the resolutions under which we are acting."

The vote was taken on the amendment offered by Mr. James and resulted as follows:

In favor: Senators Fletcher and Purcell and Representatives Madison, James and Graham; total, 5.

In view of the absence of Messrs. Olmstead and Denby, Senators Nelson and Sutherland and Representative McCall declined to vote, stating that they did not deem it fair to those gentlemen to proceed until their arrival. It was suggested by Mr. James and other Democratic members the absent Republican members had sufficient notice of the meeting, and they should have been present. Mr. James said the matter at issue had been under formal consideration for three months, that action was desired, and further delay was unnecessary.

The motion of Mr. Madison as amended by the motion of Mr. James was then voted on and resulted as follows:

In favor: Senators Fletcher and Purcell and Representatives Madison, James and Graham. Senators Nelson and Sutherland and Representative McCall declined to vote for the same reason stated in the foregoing.

Mr. McCall moved that the committee take a recess until Friday morning. On this motion the vote stood as follows:

In favor: Senators Nelson and Sutherland and Representatives McCall and Madison. Total, 4.

Opposed: Senators Purcell and Fletcher and Representatives James and Graham; total, 4. The motion was declared lost.

Representative Madison's original motion, in the nature of a substitute of Senator Fletcher's motion, was then taken up and its consideration being insisted upon, in the absence of Messrs. Denby and Olmstead, Senator Sutherland and Representative McCall withdrew from the meeting.

A motion was then taken on the sub-resolution of Representative Madison, and resulted as follows:

In favor: Senators Fletcher and Purcell and Representatives Madison, James and Graham; total, 5.

Present, but not voting: Senator Nelson.

Mr. James made a point that no member of the committee had made the point of no quorum.

A vote was then taken on the original resolution offered by Senator Fletcher as amended by the substitute of Mr. Madison. The vote was as follows:

In favor: Senators Fletcher and Purcell and Representatives Madison, James and Graham; total, 5.

Present, but not voting: Senator Nelson.

The chairman once more reminded the committee of the fact that no quorum was present. Mr. James, of

TUBERCULOSIS TREATMENT vs. TUBERCULOSIS CURE

There is a vast difference between a treatment and a CURE. Sanatorium, Dietetic and Climatic Treatment are beneficial in a way. They "bolster up," but oftentimes give the consumptive the impression that he is cured, while the disease has really been slumbering, and soon gains headway again, developing more rapidly. Nature herself tries to heal, but the disease germs develop faster than Nature can work, and the result is eventually the total destruction of the lungs.

Consumptives first think of sanatoriums when seeking a cure. In the public mind also that seems to be the one method. Yet how many people do you know who have been permanently cured by sanatorium treatment? Statistics seemingly fail to enlighten on this point. Medicine as administered by physicians and consumptives themselves, but when the makers of Eckman's Alternative can produce irrefutable testimonials and affidavits made by those who have been cured, few reasonable, broad-minded consumptives will refuse to listen to the new call of health and happiness that is made by Eckman's Alternative.

These cured people were skeptical. Everyone is. But if your present treatment is not curing you, is it effective? No! The disease must be eradicated entirely.

Find out what Eckman's Alternative may do for you. We refer you to clergymen, priests, nuns—God's ministers to the sick—whose word could not be bought for any money.

Eckman's Alternative has cured many cases of tuberculosis that sanatoriums pronounced absolutely incurable. Could more be said?

Eckman's Alternative is good for all Throat and Lung troubles, and is on sale in Paducah by List Drug Co. and other druggists. It can also be obtained at or procured by your local druggists. Ask for Booklet of Cured Cases or write for Evidence to the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa.

The RING and the MAN

RELATION TO THE WOMAN

"I have no personal concern, of course, in the matter, but I have been greatly interested in the remarkable series of articles that have appeared under your name. I suppose you were betrayed into this unfortunate position through some error on the part of one of your subordinates."

"No," said Gormly, "that was a mistake of my own, one of those employ-ers' errors to which we alluded a moment since."

"It is like to cost you dear, I fancy, before you get through. The Gorham Freight Traction company, which Gormly Deliberately Laid All His Cards on the Table.

I hear is an immensely strong financial organization and is nat-urally relentless and inexorable in matters of business, is apt to exact compliance with its demands, or leave your warehouses, as it were, in the air."

"I have never credited them with any other intent."

"Then I suppose in the end you will take your medicine, as the young men say, and content yourself with your—ah—proclamations?"

"My experience has been that pub-licity, if coupled with surrender, is never very efficacious. If I should accede to the demands of the Gorham Freight Traction company, the fact that I had exposed them would be of little moment."

"Oh, then, you propose to do your own freightage by wagon and give up the battle?" asked Haldane, his eagerness a little more apparent than he imagined possible.

"I have not said so," he answered.

"What do you propose?"

"It was a blunt, direct question, and one unwarranted by the situation."

"Well—" began the merchant slowly.

"I ask simply as a citizen interested in the welfare of the community. Some of the backers of the Gorham Freight Traction company are friends of mine, and from tonight I shall hope to count you also among that number," explained the financier grace-fully.

"Thank you," returned Gormly. "I have learned that it is not wise to say what you are going to do until you are ready to do it; that it is much better, in fact, to substitute doing for saying."

"An excellent maxim!" returned the other with well simulated indifference. "All of your fellow citizens, however, will be deeply interested in the out-come of the affair. I am an older man than you are, Mr. Gormly, and may therefore take the liberty, not of ad-vising you as to the conduct of your business, but of saying in a friendly way one or two things that occur to me. The first is that as a business man I know that this publicity is more or less distasteful to you. I assume that it will be to the Gorham Freight Traction company, which, I believe, is a very worthy concern, desirous of minding its own business and exploit-ing its own properties. I think my- self, viewing the situation impar-tially, that you have been hardly dealt with. I don't want to see the affair advance any farther, for the credit of the community. Suppose we say five hundred thousand dollars for the connections and nothing more to appear about it in the public press?"

"Is this—" burst out Gormly quickly. "Is this a compromise you are offering?"

"I am offering nothing," returned Haldane lightly, almost indifferently. "I am not in position to offer anything. As I stated to you, I am simply a citi-zen who wants to see this unpleasant matter removed from the papers, where such things are discussed by in-temperate writers without any real comprehension of the issues involved and I offer as the friend of my friends, and, if I may so call myself, as your friend, to bring you two together."

"You are not empowered to make such a proposition?"

"Certainly not," was the specious answer. "I simply take advantage of the fortunate chance that gives me the privilege of your acquaintance to do what I conceive to be a most impor-tant public service."

"And you have no personal interest in the matter?"

"I have already assured you as to that."

"I will not accept any such offer, if it should be made me by authority. I will not pay a single cent over and above the actual cost of building the switches and a proper and reasonable amount for the privilege of the con-nection."

"Of course, you must make your own decision. In that case, however, I fear you will never get the switches."

"I am quite sure that before I get through I shall have not only the switches, but—"

Gormly paused, and looked his com-panion hard and directly in the face.

"But what?" said Haldane, flicking the ashes from his cigar daintily, and speculatively watching the blue curl of smoke that rose languidly from its end in the air.

Gormly thought quickly. He was not now deceived by the well assumed indifference of Haldane. He was con-vinced that there was something back of it; that the relation of Haldane to the whole affair was more than a mere casual one; that Haldane had not told him the plain, unvarnished truth.

"Well, Mr. Haldane, I will be frank with you. I not only intend to have my track connection, but I intend to have the Gorham Freight Traction company as well."

"My dear sir!" said Haldane gently, not turning a hair before this astounding declaration. "Are you aware that the bonds of the Gorham Freight Traction company are two hundred and fifty million dollars; that stock for twice as much more has been issued and sold and is already at a premium; that it is in the enjoyment of a ninety-nine-year franchise with the privilege of renewal; that its promoters in-clude some of the ablest financiers in the city?"

"Much of what you say is a matter of public notoriety. You have given me, however, some information that I did not possess and which is of value," said Gormly quietly.

Haldane did not acknowledge the touch, though he winced inwardly at it.

"And yet you speak," he went on, "of controlling the company?"

"I do."

"This is most interesting. I am en-cious to know how you propose to do it?"

"The business that you have built up is evidence of your capacity in that line; but you have, I take it, never mingled in Wall street, never dealt on the exchange?"

"Never, I didn't mean to, either."

"How then do you expect to obtain control of such a corporation as this, especially when it has back of it the city government as well as the Sac-chem society?"

"The question was one Gormly could have declined to answer without a moment's hesitation without giving any offense, for it was one that Hal-dane had no right to ask. He thought deeply, if swiftly, and before he spoke, Haldane continued:

"You are, I take it, a wealthy man; but no single man could command the resources of this corporation; that is, no single man outside of those few who are in it," he went on, "and it would be sheer madness for you to attempt it."

"Mr. Haldane," said Gormly, coming to another conclusion, "there is a pow-er in this country greater than the money power."

"And what may that be, sir?"

"The power of the people."

"In this instance, the people are al-ready on the side of the Gorham Freight Traction company."

"Are they so?"

"Certainly. Through their repre-sentatives they have voted them a franchise under which the line has been constructed and by which it is oper-ated, through the provisions of which it will be held."

"Have the people surrendered their rights absolutely to the Gorham Freight Traction company?"

"I should say that they had."

"Are they delivered, bound hand and foot, to this corporation?"

"Well, you put it rather poetically; but in substance, your remark is true."

"And have they no redress or re-course?"

"Certainly."

"And what is that?"

"I haven't the slightest objection to telling you. They can revoke the franchise—at the expiration of the ninety-nine-year term."

"Is that all they can do?"

"Absolutely all. You see, therefore, it would be quite hopeless for you to attempt to fight this corporation, even with the alliance and support of the people, which it is by no means cer-tain you could gain."

"And that is your unprejudiced opin-ion?"

"It is. Therefore I urge upon you the acceptance of my offer to mediate between you and them."

"And you say your interest is purely impersonal?"

"Entirely."

"I am glad, as I said before, to know that," returned Gormly, "be-cause I should not like to find myself in opposition to one who has mani-fested such friendliness to me as you have."

Haldane looked up suspiciously; but Gormly's appearance was abso-lutely guileless.

"For notwithstanding what you tell me," the merchant continued, "all of which is doubtless true, I propose to enter the contest with the Gorham Freight Traction company. I have never allowed myself to be robbed; I have never been beaten by trickery and chicanery; and I don't propose to be robbed or beaten now."

"Ruin, absolute ruin, is before you," said the other earnestly, "if you en-gage in this contest."

"But sir, they are trying to hold me up—to use a blunt phrase—for a mil-lion dollars for a thing that should not be worth a tenth of that amount on a liberal basis. Morally—"

"Morals, my dear Mr. Gormly, some-how seem to have little to do with business. You must do what they like, or—"

He shrugged his shoulders.

"We shall see," said Gormly. "I be-lieve, though I am not a student of military history, that an able general is one who takes advantage of the mistakes of the enemy, and that more battles are won by such sharp sighted endeavor than by deliberate plan-ning."

"Precisely! This is a case in point. The Gorham Freight Traction com-pany is taking advantage of your mis-take."

"But I have also heard," continued Gormly imperturbably, "that the ablest general is he who not only takes ad-vantage of his enemy's mistakes but who turns his own mistakes to good account. I propose to antagonize the party in power and the Sacchem which granted this franchise and delivered the city into the hands of this corpora-tion and to drive them out."

"Many men have tried that; none in my recollection have succeeded."

"The more honor in succeeding now, and the more inspiration to try."

"But suppose you did succeed, what then? How would that affect the Gorham Freight Traction company?"

"Meanwhile," said Gormly, and in this instance he deliberately laid all his cards on the table. "I propose to take advantage of the one blunder of the Gorham Freight Traction com-pany."

"And what is that?" asked Hal-dane with intense eagerness. There was no longer the faintest pretense between these two. His cards were on the table as well, although he had not admitted it.

"In order to make the franchise of the Gorham Freight Traction com-pany really of value, to complete the sys-tem, without which it begins and ends in the air, they must have the old New York Street Car company fran-chise which expires next spring. It covers the only available routes and the only available streets to connect the two ends of the Gorham enter-prise. Somehow or other the astute minds controlling the corporation failed to secure the renewal of this franchise. It has to be voted upon and passed in the spring."

"The present administration," was the quick reply, "will be in power un-till the April elections. The franchise expires in March. No regrant of it could be made until then. It will be renewed before a new administration could supplant the old, even if your wild dreams were successful."

"That is to be seen," answered Gormly coolly.

"My dear sir, it is self evident."

"By no means. Public opinion shall be aroused on the question of the re-nuval of the franchise of the New York Street Car company, with a clear explanation of the principles and con-sequences involved, to such an extent that I do not believe any administra-tion on earth will dare to counter it."

"And who will do this arousing?"

"I will."

"How?"

"By offering myself as a candidate for mayor of New York and by fight-ing the battle on that issue, and that alone."

"I might," said Haldane slowly, af-ter a deeply thoughtful moment—"I might secure the privileges you desire—conditioned—"

"I don't desire them now, Mr. Hal-dane," returned Gormly. "I am in the battle to stay. I ask nothing from the Gorham Freight Traction company. I can confer no favors upon me. I shall take what I am entitled to by the grace of God and the will of the peo-ple."

Haldane stared a long time at the dark, determined face of his host.

"You will make a splendid enemy, Mr. Gormly," he said at last. "The battle between you and the Traction company will be one worth going a long distance to see."

Haldane looked fixedly at the young man. He acknowledged that in him the Gorham Freight Traction company and he himself had found the worst antagonist that the abun-dant and brilliant talent of the great metropolis could produce.

At that instant the tall clock in the hall struck the hour of 12.

"I have the honor," said Gormly, bowing formally, "to wish you a very Merry Christmas, Mr. Haldane."

APPEARS TIRED; UNINTERESTING

WHEAT UNABLE TO HOLD UP
WHEN BUYING CEASES.

Slight Net Changes Recorded for the Week—Much Chicago Money Goes to Minneapolis.

FOREIGN CROPS ARE SHORT.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Very slight net changes were recorded in wheat last week and the price-making influences were about the same as during the previous week. The market seemed tired, lack of cash demand and the small speculative trade making it difficult to maintain the bulges, and prices sagged whenever the buying stopped. The point was made by the bears that northwestern stocks are increasing too fast for prices to hold up unless the buying power increases. It is said that a lot of Chicago money had been sent to Minneapolis of late to margin short sales there against purchases here. A few Chicago traders who have been long in Minneap-olis and short here have closed at a good profit. They believe that the spring wheat movement is getting too large and stocks piling up too fast to stay on the long side. They believe that they can replace their holdings at lower prices.

There are those in the trade, how-ever, who believe that the movement of wheat out of North Dakota this year will be so small that receipts throughout the season will soon show up very small as compared with those of a year ago.

"The disposition to hold wheat in North Dakota is more pronounced than I have ever seen it before," said one northwestern grain handler. "The state has about 40 per cent. of a crop, which is not more than can be carried in farmers' granaries. In normal years the farmer has filled his own granary, then that at the coun-try station, and has had a little to ship through the reason besides. The wheat crop in the northwest this year has been largely raised in southern Minnesota, where the farmer is rich and will stick to sell when he feels like it."

Bullish Conditions.

There were numerous bullish con-conditions in the trade which stood out at the end of the week more prom-iently than ever, particularly those in the foreign situation. It is be-coming more evident from the char-acter of the foreign news that the crops in France, Russia and Germany have suffered greater deterioration than the trade here has knowledge of. People who have been in France and Germany are thoroughly im-pressed with the belief that the de-mand from the consuming countries of the world will easily absorb the surplus of the exporting nations and that there is a closer adjustment of supply to requirements than seemed possible months ago.

It is believed in some influential circles here that the situation abroad is such that foreigners are afraid to let the true conditions become known as they themselves have been slow in being convinced of the extensive crop losses and the poor quality of wheat in all the leading countries. Exporters in America have taken ad-vantage of the foreign demand and have sold a great deal more wheat abroad than they have reported, and have also made large engagements for ocean room via Montreal. It is said that Duluth exporters have char-tered all the available ocean room at Montreal for the next two months.

Foreigners Make Inquiries.

A feature that developed toward the end of the week was the num-erous inquiries for wheat from Ger-many and France, with bids very close to a working basis. Those who received these inquiries said it showed that foreigners want our wheat and are feeling the markets to see what can be done.

A point made by the northwestern bulls is that the movement from North Dakota will be light because the yields are so small that farmers who have anything to sell are finding a ready market for it among their neighbors, who are buying it for next year's seed. When they have a big crop in North Dakota the movement is always largest early in the season, as farmers are anxious to get it out of the country before the winter blockades set in. This year the yield is so light that no big movement is expected at any time, and they figure that the northwestern situation is en-tirely separate from that of winter wheat, of which a good part of the surplus already has been sold.

Trade Is Poor.

Cash wheat in Chicago is largely held by the elevator interests, and they are not pressing it to sale, but rather buying nearby delivery and selling the more deferred futures at good advances. Carrying charges have widened almost constantly of late, being fully 4 cents for Sep-tember to December and 10 cents from September to May at the end of the week. This is decidedly detri-mental and expensive to the bulls. In the main the market is largely gov-erned by local speculative pit sur-roundings. In a general sense trade is poor, all local and professional.

BOOKS BY LOADS IN GRAFT PROBE

BRILLIANT AIRRAY SPECIAL COUNCIL EMPLOYED.

Testifies That Elwood and Cunningham Carried Accounts for Defendants.

ALLIS-CONGER CASE AGAIN

New York, Sept. 8.—The trial of alleged "graft" leading from Albany to Wall street, was on the program for speedy tracing with the beginning in the city hall here yesterday of public hearings by the special committee named by the last legislature to investigate charges of legislative corruption. A wagon load of the books of the defunct brokerage house of Ellingwood and Cunningham was in readiness to be produced if needed in the inquiry. From these volumes, former Judge M. Linn Bruce, counsel to the committee, was expected to attempt to trace the development of the connection between the alleged speculative activity of certain legislators now living and legislation affecting various corporations.

James W. Cunningham of the defunct brokerage firm, and G. Tracy Rogers of Birmingham, at one time a special partner in the firm, were expected to be early witnesses.

Various legislators whose names were mentioned in the Hotchkiss insurance investigation of last spring, including Representative George R. Malby, former state senator Jotham P. Allis, Louis A. Goodsell of Orange, and Louis Redell, have been mentioned as others likely to be called to give evidence at early stages of the investigation.

After the conclusion of the probe into the Wall street end of the graft charges, it is expected that the Allis-Conger scandal, will be taken up for a further sifting. With the conclusion of this feature of the investigation it has been indicated that there will be further inquiry into the recent history of insurance legislation, particularly that relative to fire, marine, industrial and security organizations.

The committee was created by the legislature late in the last session, following the sensations caused by the Allis-Conger and insurance investigation revelations.

Alfred R. Hull, counsel for the state department of insurance, assists Judge Bruce as counsel.

Within two hours of the beginning of the investigation of the charges of corruption in connection with legislation at Albany, G. Tracy Rogers, for years representative of the street railroad interests at the state capital, had testified that the brokerage firm of Ellingwood & Cunningham, with which he had been connected for several years after 1899, had carried partnership accounts for former Senator Fred R. Green and Assemblyman Louis Bedell. The firm also had as customers a number of other senators and assemblymen. Mr. Rogers also testified to having in 1900 bought 100 shares of the stock of the New York transportation committee for James L. Rogers, Republican leader of the assembly, and 400 shares for the late Speaker Nixon. A bill giving this company extensive privileges of operation in the streets of New York city was passed by the legislature in that year. Mr. Rogers, however, emphatically denied that he had anything to do with the passage of that bill.

Cobb did not come here with the Tigers for the four-game series, which opened yesterday, but remained in Detroit to consult a specialist. If the specialist makes an adverse report, Cobb will not play any more this year.

The Detroit management may send Cobb to New York to be examined by specialists there.

Big Sum Spent in Charity.
New York, Sept. 8.—The total cost of public and private charity in New York City is now about $35,000,000 annually, according to estimates prepared for Mayor's Commission of Population Commission. Of this sum the city spends about $15,000,000.

MEET NO MORE

MEXICAN WAR VETERANS ARE GROWING TOO OLD.

"Adjourn to Reassemble on That Beautiful Shore"—Touching Scenes.

Indianapolis Sept. 8.—"It now becomes my sacred duty to adjourn the National Association of Mexican War Veterans to meet again on that beautiful shore. I ask you to rise and declare the national association adjourned forever."

With these words Mrs. Moore Murdoch, secretary of the association, disbanded it at the close of its final convention today.

The twenty-eight surviving members were too old, it was felt, to keep the organization together. None of the delegates present was under 79 years of age.

The sad sentiment of the little gathering was dramatically expressed by one of its number who stood, when the roll was called and answered "Conrad Gasshe, Fulton county, Ohio, Eleventh U. S. Volunteer Infantry—and the last survivor."

Former Vice President Fairbanks in speaking to the surviving veterans, declared, "There is too much hysteria abroad in the country," and that the watchword should be "Down with the demagogue and up with the patriot."

After paying tribute to the bravery and courage of the Mexican war veterans, who are holding a national convention in this city, Mr. Fairbanks said:

"There is much of hysteria abroad in the land. There are many counselors, and among them many false prophets. Fortunately, the American people are bringing to bear upon the problems which face them that deliberate, rational judgment which has been their salvation in the past. Our country and our institutions have cost too much in the precious blood of her immortal sons to be given over either to time servers or chance, or anarchy."

"On the Contrary."

CONFIDENCE IN RAILROADS.

Recent Conference at Berne, Switzerland, Showed Supremacy.

Washington, Sept. 8.—"I return from the international railway conference at Berne, Switzerland, with much greater enthusiasm over the American railroads as agencies of transportation than I had before."

This statement was made by Franklin K. Lane, a member of the interstate commerce commission, who was one of the representatives of the United States to the international railway conference.

"The conference established beyond question, I think, the supremacy of the American railroad from the standpoint of efficiency," Mr. Lane continued. "One of the questions that is left in my mind is as to how European railroads manage to pay four, five and six per cent in dividends with their small volume of traffic they have compared with the volume we have."

"One thing Europe is far ahead of us on is in providing pensions for our civil employees. Europeans regard our methods as barbarous and say that they have outgrown them by fifty years. Another thing in which we are behind Europe is in the matter of employers' liability. Every man in England has to pay damages for an injury that is suffered by his employee. Employers generally insure against this damage."

Big Sum Spent in Charity.
New York, Sept. 8.—The total cost of public and private charity in New York City is now about $35,000,000 annually, according to estimates prepared for Mayor's Commission of Population Commission. Of this sum the city spends about $15,000,000.

REVENUE GROWS

SHOWN BY COLLECTOR RENO
FOR PAST MONTH.

Due to the Large Amount of Money
Derived From Sale of Spirit Stamps.

The collections for the second internal revenue district for the month of August show a decided increase both over the month of July and over the same month of 1909. The collections for the past month were $282,234.88 against $215,897.60 for the same month of 1909. This was an increase of $66,337.28.

The increase is due to the collection on spirits, as the receipts of tobacco stamps showed a falling off. The reason attributed to the falling off in the tobacco stamp collections is that the new law became effective July 1, and the manufacturers stocked up before the law went into effect.

The following are the collections:

State Fair Managers Practically Same
as Last Year.

With comparatively few changes the personnel of the active management of the Kentucky State Fair for 1910 will be the same as last year. J. W. Newman of Versailles, who has so successfully guided the fair during the past few years, is in charge again as secretary. While the state failed to appropriate this year money greatly needed for additional buildings, yet it is believed there will be no genuine embarrassment on that account to the success of the approaching fair, and everything points to the largest and best state fair ever held south of the Ohio river. The following members of the State Board of Agriculture have been assigned to the departments enumerated for this year: M. C. Rankin, chairman, Frankfort, poultry, plants and flowers, livestock judging contest; M. A. Scovell, Lexington, dairy cattle, dogs; G. N. McGrew, Bayou, woman's work, farm implements and machinery; J. Froman, Ghent, swine; William Adams, Cynthiana, field seed and grain, tobacco; Fred R. Blackburn, Stanton, horticulture, forestry and minerals; P. M. Shy, clerk of board.

The following superintendents and assistants will be in charge of the respective departments: Horses, R. H. Lillard, Lawrenceburg, superintendent; George C. Hoffman, Lawrenceburg, assistant superintendent; mules, William Simmons, Shepherdsville, superintendent; Jacks and jennets, John T.
